

FIREFIGHTERS ARE:

Firefighters are those crazy people who run into a burning building when all others are running out.

Firefighters are those people who wake up in the middle of the night to help an old lady, who fell out of bed.

Firefighters are those people who work on half eaten meals because someone needed their help.

Firefighters are those people who have a second family that seems as close as their first family

Firefighters are those people who rarely get thanked for doing a good job.

Firefighters are those people who have to deal with people hurting and dying.

Firefighters are those people who have big hearts.

Firefighters are those people who are always there in a moment's notice when needed.

Firefighters are those heroes that little kids always want to be when they grow up.

Firefighters are those people who are the unsung heroes.

Firefighters are those people who are just always there.

Firefighters are those people who lay their lives on the line every day for others

Firefighters are those people who demonstrate bravery.

Firefighters are those people who will enter a hazard zone to rescue one of their own at the risk of their own life.

Firefighters are those people who are constantly giving of themselves, and expecting nothing in return.

Firefighters are those people who must rise above themselves to conquer the most overwhelming situations.

Firefighters are those people who sacrifice their lives so that others may live.

“I have no ambition in this world but one, and that is to be a fireman. The position may, in the eyes of some, appear to be a lowly one; but those who know the work, which a fireman has to do, believe his is a noble calling. Our proudest moment is to save lives. Under the impulse of such thoughts, the nobility of the occupation thrills us and stimulates us to deeds of daring, even of supreme sacrifice.”

–Edward Crocker